

ONE PLATFORM, TWO ROLES

The IPV structure

IPV connects the two sides of personal-injury medical funding: the providers who deliver care, and the capital that pays for it before cases settle.

FINANCING DIVISION

Funds providers' personal-injury receivables and supports billing — powered by the proprietary CaseCompass platform for case tracking and collection.

Serves: healthcare providers who generate PI receivables.

INVESTOR DIVISION

Capital Formation

Connects the personal-injury receivables asset class to accredited investors — raising and managing the capital that funds providers.

Serves: accredited investors seeking exposure to the asset class.

How it fits together

Providers deliver personal-injury care and receive funding against their receivables. IPV manages those receivables to settlement through CaseCompass. Investor capital funds the platform — creating liquidity for providers and a durable, collateral-backed asset for investors.
